Web Project Review Report:

So, I decided to get my dad and sister to review my website and they had some useful comments and feedback for me. One of the first comments that I got was that the top center of my page seemed too crowded, so I decided to put more space in between each nav item. The second comment that I got was that the text in my paragraphs seemed too small and didn't seem to be aligned correctly. So, I enlarged the text, changed the font color, and adjusted the alignment of my paragraphs to enhance the design of my website. The third comment that I got was that the colours that I originally used for the background color of my website didn't really seem to connect with my audience, so I changed the background colour to green and I adjusted the font color to white. Due to these comments and improvements, I think that my website looks much better now.

Comments:

- Use Bold Font for home page paragraph – Easier to read/Contrast
- Adjust Padding of paragraph to the same as image
- Highlight/Add more description of Tourist Attractions
- Adjust the Size of Attraction Images
- Clarify area to cover – Metro Vancouver? City of Vancouver, Greater Vancouver District, … etc.
- Cuisine – can add more different ethnics, rather than mostly Asian
- Add more spaces between padding on navigation bar

Comments:

- Good features such as the pop up for hovering over certain slides
- Maybe add more information about the tourist mountain attractions since your audience is supposed to be one that does not know Vancouver that well
- To increase attractiveness, adding gifs or videos, slideshows for the maps would be helpful
- Having a tool bar or legend at the side can help the audience jump easily from one source to the next without having to scroll through, and the side bar looks a bit empty now
- Good consistency for font, but could use more colours to engage the audience
- Maybe reformat the cuisine slide so the left side does not look as empty. You can have text on one side and image on the other. Additionally, another thing you might want to consider is if people want to zoom in, do you have the pop out function for the images so that they can look at the images in more detail?

- Looking at other tourist attraction websites, they often include a list of activities to do or recommend at each location
- Good slideshow at the title slide
- For formatting the content, you could also include questions and answers either at the bottom of your title page or at the contact us page such as things to do, items to bring to ensure most enjoyability
- Your top bar is too crowded

Due to the comments of these 2 individuals, I have decided to change the...

- Padding for my paragraphs
- Width of images
- Fisherman's Wharf Picture
- Spacing for nav bar
- add western lake, Steveston pizza to cuisine
- change padding for form
- add image gallery jQuery for home page
- change background color to light green and green
- change nav bar
